

CREATIVE MUSIC MAKING

Join members of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra and Maryville University's Music Therapy department for an amazing three day journey to create and perform an original piece of music. Thirty-six people who receive services from the St. Louis Arc and who are at least 16-years of age or older will have the chance to work with these musicians. For two days, participants will explore different kinds of music, and craft a new piece that will be performed on the third night on stage at Powell Hall.

If you want to be considered for this fun experience, please complete the information below and return to Clinton Hall at the St. Louis Arc Family Center, 1177 N. Warson Rd., no later than January 13, 2017.
